SOUTHERN PACIFIC TO BUILD STOREHOUSE

Among other notable and important Improvements to be made at Ogden this season by the Harriman management will be the erection of a large Medical college. and handsome building to be used as a Harriman system storehouse. The new structure will be of brick, 'several stories in heighth and will be located in the center of the yards, adjacent to the new viaduct and nerhaps one hundred feet south of the present joint freight depot.

When questioned in reference to the proposed building this morning. Resident Engineer A. Q. Campbell refused to discuss the subject and would neither deny or affirm the story. Oth-er well-posted officials of the Harriman system admitted, however, that plans for such a building were under consideration at this time and that the structure would be erected during the present year. Continuing, one of these gentlemen said:

"A storehouse of this character at Ogden is badly needed at this time in order to carry supplies for all of the various Harriman lines converging here. The present storehouse capacity is entirely inadequate and this be comes more apparent as the Ogden shops are being enlarged to take care of Harriman motive power. The shop plant is increasing its capacity right along and within the next year or eighteen months the output of engines will be increased to probably twenty two or twenty-five per month. Aside from this, the Ogden storehouse must carry supplies to send out both east and west, and the storage capacity of this plant must be quadrupled within a comparatively short time. Of course some of the officials are not inclined to discuss the matter until the an-nouncement is formally made by those in high authority, but all the same the new storehouse is going to be built

IMPROVING UNION DEPOT GROUNDS

Gardener Nelson, in charge of the floral display, lawns and shrubbery around about the handsome Union pasenger depot in this city, is arranging some of the handsomest flower beds ever put in the always attractive environments of railroad headquarters. Some of these floral displays cost as bigh as $175 for each bed, and the expensive new shrubbery added this year will cost hundreds of dollars. Dis-cussing the subject briefly with a reporter Mr. Nelson said:

"We are starting to spray our trees at present and the elms need this at-tention badly at present. I would suggest to Ogden people having young trees on their lawns that spraying is absolutely necessary at this time to protect both shrubbery and trees. It is money well spent, as trees and shrubbery and floral displays have been an important factor in making Ogden a city of beautiful homes. The depot grounds this year will be the finest we have ever had and by long odds the most expensive. Depot Mas-ter Shields is taking deep personal interest in the matter and has authorized me to use my best judgment in beautifying the grounds in every way.

"Some of the worthless curs that should be rounded up and impounded do great damage to the flowers and delicate shrubbery and this nuisance ought to be abated by the city dog catcher-if there is an official of that nature. It is an outrage to have these many curs dash through the plants and dig great holes in flower beds and lawns, both at the depot grounds and private homes, and a few leaden pellets would stop this annoy
